TOWN OF AURORA SENIOR CENTER
DIRECTOR'S REPORT
MONTH OF September 2024

The mission of the Town of Aurora Senior Center is to help older adults remain healthy and active through participation in recreational pursuits and to provide leadership and advocacy to ensure the availability of leisure and recreational opportunities for seniors.

ADMINISTRATION

REVENUE & EXPENDITURES: See Supervisor's Report

On September 12th I attended the Live Well Erie meeting at the Buffalo History Museum. The meeting featured a variety of speakers including Erie County COAD which stands for Community Organizations Active in Disasters. We also heard from the New York State Dept. of Civil Service.

I attended our quarterly director's meeting on September 26th at the Cheektowaga Senior Center. We reviewed our center policies and how everyone has dealt with the current political situations. Every center has experienced heated discussions.

Lastly, we held our annual Open House and Program Registration on September 9th 9am-12noon. As always, our instructors were on hand to talk about their program. We saw new faces and lots of seasoned members. Staff from Erie County Senior Services were represented and available for questions.

Deer Population is Out of Control

By: Lyn Chimera, EAGC Member

East Aurora is being overrun by deer! They are everywhere and not at all afraid of humans. They are bold enough to show themselves even during the daylight hours.

At a recent EA Garden Club meeting people were discussing how deer were much worse this summer and eating things they have never touched before. They have also noticed the does this season all have twins. This will increase the deer population even more. Just imagine what life will be like with 3 times as many deer and no predators to control the population.

Why is this a problem? It's not just the garden plants they are devouring but other factors. Nationwide deer damage costs $2 BILLION!! One billion of this is from vehicle accidents, $100 million in crop damage, $750 million in damage to the timber industry and last on the list is $250 in landscape damage. Unfortunately, those aren't the only concerns.

White tailed deer are the primary host for deer ticks which carry Lyme disease. Ticks need deer to lay their eggs and have a blood meal. Ticks need a blood meal in each of the 4 stages of their 2-year development. While deer are a common host meal and carry the ticks, they do not get Lyme disease. After the tick has gotten a blood meal from the deer it drops off and awaits its next meal which includes humans. The ticks are being spread from forest edges to our backyards by deer.

A community in Connecticut reduced their deer population to 5.1 per square kilometer (that's only .36 square miles) which decreased reports of Lyme disease by 80%! Of course, this reduction also was evident in fewer vehicle accidents and much less landscape damage. I have had 2 ticks on me from my yard this season. Luckily, I discovered them before being bitten.

Yes, deer are beautiful animals with big brown eyes and were here first. However, there are more deer per acre now than before the Europeans came. Much of this is due to people creating a habitat where they can thrive. It's time we took the increasing deer problem seriously and take action. Many communities have used a variety of methods to decrease the deer population from culling to sterilization. East Aurora needs to take a serious look at some of the solutions for the well-being of ourselves AND our landscapes.

(Letter to the Editor, East Aurora Advertiser, September 2022)

Deer Overabundance and Impacts

- Increase in tick borne illness/Lyme disease in children and adults
- Deer/vehicle collisions with injuries and repair expense
- Deer eating landscaping plants
- Property owners' excessive expense in plant maintenance and replacement
- Deer eating crops/vegetable gardens
- Property damage and costs of fencing and chemical deterrents
- Reduces diversity in forest understory; extensive loss of NY State flower, Trillium
- Enables invasive species
- Residents feeding deer
